The city must come up with a plan that includes child care relief for families who need it so that our workers can continue working, especially health care workers. We need food and medical services for students who need it. It is not time to panic. But it is time to act. 2/

Thank you for saying this. I understand what we do as educators in this city. Our job is vast and goes beyond lessons. However, I'm not a babysitter. School is not a babysitting service. We need a plan to support our most vulnerable kids and then close.

It's past time we come up with a plan to responsibly close NYC public schools.

Today we have a confirmed #coronavirus case at P.S. 306 in Queens. The administration's current plan is to reopen for classes tomorrow pending investigation.

I repeat - schools should close.

Does this apply to commercial evictions? Also, I'm sure you've been hearing the calls 4 moratorium on rent Since #nyc has shut down & most cannot work from home, there is no $ to pay rent, whether you are a resident or a biz. Major BREAKING: Mayor confirms NYC public schools will close starting tomorrow until April 20th at the absolute earliest. Remote learning will be up and running beginning Monday, March 23rd for grades K-12. It will be adjusted as time goes on.

This is the right decision for our city.

I applaud @NYGovCuomo & @NYCMayor for making the responsible decision to close our schools. I also thank @UFT President Mulgrew and @1199SEIU President Gresham for working with our city and state leaders to help make this happen. My full statement below:

Speaker Corey Johnson Statement on Closures of New York City Public Schools

NEW YORK – I applaud Gov. Cuomo and Mayor de Blasio for making the responsible decision to close our schools to mitigate the impact of coronavirus COVID-19 and help keep our city safe. I also thank UFT President Mulgrew and 1199 SEIU President Gresham for working with our city and state leaders to help make this happen.

Although necessary school closures will bring new challenges. All of those challenges – from prioritizing child care relief for essential medical and hospital staff to ensuring services for vulnerable students who rely on schools for necessities like meals and medicine – must be swiftly addressed as we take this step.

We owe it to all of our students to get this right. The City Council stands ready and willing to help in any way we can.

This is a difficult time for our city. Let's look out for one another during this crisis. The tough decisions we make now will help us better weather this crisis in the long run.

We should keep essentials like grocery stores, bodegas, pharmacies, and banks open. And restaurants that can make deliveries should be able to stay open to provide delivery service for New Yorkers.

We need to make sure impacted businesses, like bars are able to survive & employees are taken care of until we're back to normal. Businesses have costs that need to be covered no matter what - rent, utilities, loan payments, insurance, and taxes. We need to help them stay afloat. 3/

My statement calling for NYC to shut down non-essential services:

We are in a state of emergency and we must move quickly to mitigate the impact of coronavirus/COVID-19 on our city. All non-essential services must be closed, including bars and restaurants. 1/

We should keep essentials like grocery stores, bodegas, pharmacies, and banks open. And restaurants that can make deliveries should be able to stay open to provide delivery service for New Yorkers.

We must be bold, but we must also be prepared. 2/

We need to make sure impacted businesses, like bars are able to survive & employees are taken care of until we're back to normal. Businesses have costs that need to be covered no matter what - rent, utilities, loan payments, insurance, and taxes. We need to help them stay afloat. 3/

We need to make sure impacted businesses, like bars are able to survive & employees are taken care of until we're back to normal. Businesses have costs that need to be covered no matter what - rent, utilities, loan payments, insurance, and taxes. We need to help them stay afloat. 3/

My statement calling for NYC to shut down non-essential services:

We are in a state of emergency and we must move quickly to mitigate the impact of coronavirus/COVID-19 on our city. All non-essential services must be closed, including bars and restaurants. 1/

We should keep essentials like grocery stores, bodegas, pharmacies, and banks open. And restaurants that can make deliveries should be able to stay open to provide delivery service for New Yorkers.

We must be bold, but we must also be prepared. 2/

We should keep essentials like grocery stores, bodegas, pharmacies, and banks open. And restaurants that can make deliveries should be able to stay open to provide delivery service for New Yorkers.

We must be bold, but we must also be prepared. 2/

We need to make sure impacted businesses, like bars are able to survive & employees are taken care of until we're back to normal. Businesses have costs that need to be covered no matter what - rent, utilities, loan payments, insurance, and taxes. We need to help them stay afloat. 3/

BREAKING: starting Tuesday at 9AM, NYC will limit restaurants, bars, and cafes to take-out and delivery. Bars, nightclubs, movie theaters and other entertainment venues will be closed. Sad moment for our city but necessary

My statement calling for NYC to shut down non-essential services:

We are in a state of emergency and we must move quickly to mitigate the impact of coronavirus/COVID-19 on our city. All non-essential services must be closed, including bars and restaurants. 1/

We should keep essentials like grocery stores, bodegas, pharmacies, and banks open. And restaurants that can make deliveries should be able to stay open to provide delivery service for New Yorkers.

We must be bold - but we must also be prepared. 2/

We need to make sure impacted businesses like bars are able to survive & employees are taken care of until we're back to normal. Businesses have costs that need to be covered no matter what - rent, utilities, loan payments, insurance, and taxes. We need to help them stay afloat. 3/

We need to make sure impacted businesses like bars are able to survive & employees are taken care of until we're back to normal. Businesses have costs that need to be covered no matter what - rent, utilities, loan payments, insurance, and taxes. We need to help them stay afloat. 3/

My statement calling for NYC to shut down non-essential services:

We are in a state of emergency and we must move quickly to mitigate the impact of coronavirus/COVID-19 on our city. All non-essential services must be closed, including bars and restaurants. 1/

We should keep essentials like grocery stores, bodegas, pharmacies, and banks open. And restaurants that can make deliveries should be able to stay open to provide delivery service for New Yorkers.

We must be bold - but we must also be prepared. 2/

Keeping the healthcare sector functional has to be our top priority. We need support not just for our doctors and nurses, but for everyone who keeps hospitals running, including maintenance workers, security, IT, and food service providers. They are all essential right now. 23/

It's human nature to want to be around other people, & we must help people deal with the impacts of being socially isolated. We'll need a mix of technological and human-powered solutions to help connect people, things like more internet hot spots and tablets for those in need. 25/

The City needs to establish programs not only to fill these new voids, but to connect workers that are impacted by mandatory closings to new opportunities. Many New Yorkers won't be able to go out and they may not be able to get assistance from friends and family as easily. 26/

We need to make sure they have help. For eg, there's an app called "Be My Eyes" for the visually impaired that helps connect them to people to assist with simple tasks. We should be looking at creating a similar system for those in isolation, as well as 4 disabled New Yorkers. 27/

One way city government can help impacted businesses during this time is by pausing and deferring payments, fines and fees they are making to the government. To get through this crisis, let's get everyone back on their feet, and then we can settle up. 6/

NYC is a proud city of immigrants, & any response the city, states & federal governments are enacting to mitigate this pandemic must address the needs of all of our immigrant communities. Ensuring that all NYers have safe access to healthcare & #COVID19 testing is critical. 1/

There are levels of retired, but having at risk people treating Covid-19 patients would be bad. Possibly they could be used to staff normal admissions to free up other docs/resources though

There are options, but it needs to be done in a way that doesn't add fuel to the fire.

There are levels of retired, but having at risk people treating Covid-19 patients would be bad. Possibly they could be used to staff normal admissions to free up other docs/resources though

There are options, but it needs to be done in a way that doesn't add fuel to the fire.

There are levels of retired but having at r sk people treat ng Covid-19 patients would be bad Possibly they could be used to staff normal adm ssions to free up other docs/resources though

There are options, but it needs to be done in a way that doesn't add fuel to the f re

Retired? Not assuming that medical professionals can retire in their 50's but I hope they don't mean retirees in their 60's and 70's?? The group of people that are the most vulnerable?

There are levels of retired, but having at risk people treating Covid-19 patients would be bad. Possibly they could be used to staff normal admissions to free up other docs/resources though

There are options, but it needs to be done in a way that doesn't add fuel to the fire.

Retired? Not assuming that medical professionals can retire in their 50's but I hope they don't mean retirees in their 60's and 70's?? The group of people that are the most vulnerable?

Scott Fitton @Scotty_Ft · 23 ч.

There are levels of retired, but having at risk people treating Covid-19 patients would be bad. Possibly they could be used to staff normal admissions to free up other docs/resources though

There are options, but it needs to be done in a way that doesn't add fuel to the fire.

By April, here's what NYC needs:
- 3 million N95 masks + 50 million surgical masks
- 15,000 ventilators
- 25 million surgical gowns, cover-alls, gloves, & face masks

The federal government must start mass production NOW. We can't do this alone.

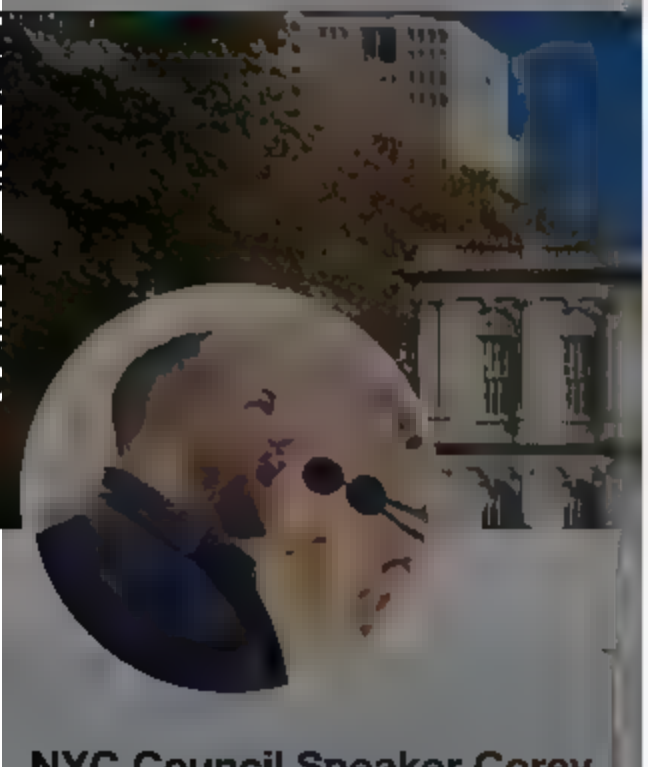
They should have started in February. BTW, where are these masks and test kits?



Jack Ma Foundation @JackMaFoundation · Mar 13

Through a donation of 500,000 testing kits and 1 million masks, we join hands with Americans in these difficult times.

Over the past few weeks, Jack Ma Foundation and Alibaba Foundation collaborated to source and donate much-needed materials to combat COVID-19 to afflicted areas in Japan, Korea, Italy, Iran and Spain. Now we have sourced and readied for shipment 500,000 testing kits and 1 million masks to be donated to the United States.

Drawing from my own country's experience, speedy and accurate test

I support @NYGovCuomo's call to reduce density in city parks. We must #StopTheSpread. The @NYCCouncil will do all we can to make this happen. As I said last week, we must get creative, including closing streets to maximize pedestrian space.

I agree, but closing all parks is not a solution.
✅Close playgrounds and basketball courts
✅No team sports
✅Discourage all group congregating
✅Close streets, add bike and pedestrian lanes and zones

I agree, but closing all parks is not a solution.
✅Close playgrounds and basketball courts
✅No team sports
✅Discourage all group congregating
✅Close streets, add bike and pedestrian lanes and zones

✅No team sports
✅Discourage all group congregating
✅Close streets, add bike and pedestrian lanes and zones

I support @NYGovCuomo's call to reduce density in city parks. We must #StopTheSpread. The @NYCCouncil will do all we can to make this happen. As I said last week, we must get creative, including closing streets to maximize pedestrian space.

#CoronavirusUpdate: @NYGovCuomo just announced that construction will begin to turn the Javits Center into 4 hospitals which have capacity for 1,000 emergency beds. The hope is also to add 1,000 beds on top of that for less critical cases.

This is very disturbing. We need reassurances from the city and from Mt. Sinai that Samaritan's Purse and its volunteers will be monitored, and that the LGBTQ community will not be discriminated against in any way. This is a crisis, but our values remain.

Council Member @StephenLevin33 and I are calling on the city to open Regional Enrichment Centers for students experiencing homelessness. Our full statement:

STATEMENT FROM SPEAKER COREY JOHNSON AND COUNCIL MEMBER STEPHEN LEVIN CALLING ON THE CITY TO OPEN REGIONAL ENRICHMENT CENTERS FOR STUDENTS EXPERIENCING HOMELESSNESS

"We applaud the Department of Education for creating Regional Enrichment Centers (RECs) across the city as our school system remains closed. RECs are critically important in this time of crisis, providing a safe and nurturing environment for the children of essential workers, such as healthcare and grocery store workers, first responders, and pharmacists. RECs are staffed by teachers and ensure students are supported during the remote learning process and have access to meals, recreation, and other enrichment activities.

"As you know, homeless shelters, hotels, transitional housing, shared housing, domestic violence shelters, and other temporary housing situations are not necessarily conducive to optimal learning opportunities. This is compounded by the fact that many of these students lack access to the internet, and there is no clear plan for when this access will be provided. As we rise to meet the challenges of remote learning during this time of crisis, we must do all we can for our most vulnerable students. It is therefore important that the City open Regional Enrichment Centers to students in temporary housing, to provide the support and learning opportunities these students need."

Thank you for this. We wi l remember who stood with the tenants

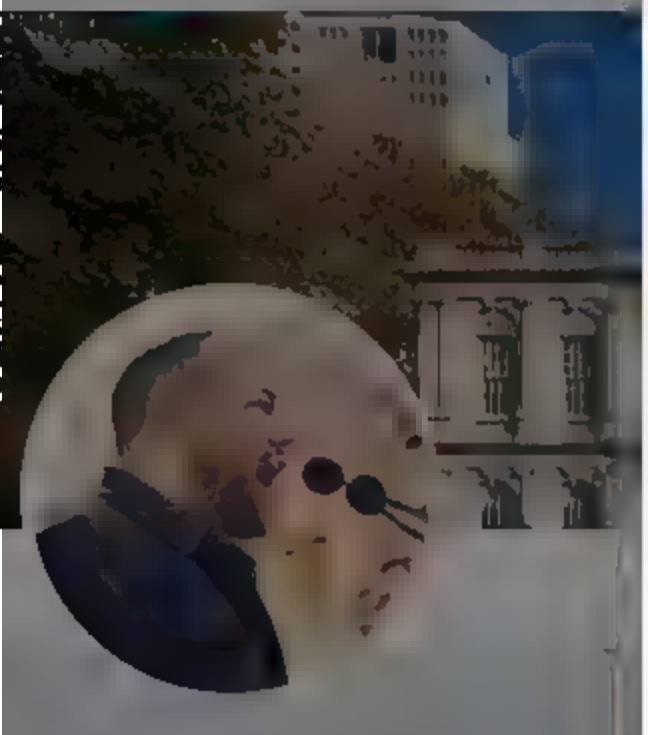
We also need automatic lease renewals with a #rentfreeze for any tenant that asks for it.

Landlords are refusing to renew so they can renovate vacated units to luxury apts.



Landlords are grossly inflat ng rents on renewals knowing we can't move

Please help us. We re scared.

Glad @NYGovCuomo is closing the playgrounds as I've been calling for. This is a difficult but necessary decision to #StopTheSpread. Keeping playgrounds open would be irresponsible during the #coronavirus pandemic.

April marks Sexual Assault Awareness Month. Even in the midst of a public health crisis, we know sexual violence will still happen — perhaps even at a higher rate. It's crucial that survivors know help is still available to them thanks to incredible orgs like @NYCAASA ⬇️ #SAAM

Marijuana use is associated with ntimate partner violence among men arrested for domestic violence

These find ngs lend additional support demonstrating that marijuana use is positively associated with IPV in a variety of samples.

There are few things more despicable than placing tenants at risk in order to make a buck.

Allegations that Kushner Cos. filed false paperwork claiming it had zero rent stabilized tenants in its buildings are very serious.

People who aren't health care workers can use things like bandanas, scarves, etc. Just make sure it covers your nose and mouth. But remember, a face covering is not a cure-all. You should still maintain at least 6 feet from others, and stay home as much as you can.

The @NYCCouncil joins @NYCDCAS and all of NYC in mourning the loss of Lenin Fierro, a Navy veteran who worked to make New York City streets safe. My heart goes out to the family, friends, and colleagues he leaves behind.

If there was ever any doubt about the systemic issues in our city, this public health crisis is making them even clearer.

Immigrant New Yorkers are some of the most vulnerable among us in any crisis, and the coronavirus pandemic is no different.

Bike shops should be deemed essential services and allowed to stay open during the #coronavirus crisis. Our delivery workers will need them, as will essential workers who choose to commute by bicycle.
Can you provide a list of essentials wh ch will be open in New York?
@OhMarioT Mario
Here's a current list as per the NYTimes
• Essential businesses that can stay open include: grocers and restaurants, health care providers, pharmacies, gas stations, convenience stores, banks, hardware stores, laundromats and cleaners, child-care providers, auto repair shops, utility companies, warehouses

There are few things more despicable than placing tenants at risk in order to make a buck.

Allegations that Kushner Cos. filed false paperwork claiming it had zero rent stabilized tenants in its buildings are very serious.

As the weather gets nicer it is critically important that we don't force New Yorkers to jam themselves into overcrowded parks and too narrow sidewalks. We need to open more streets to pedestrians ASAP. 1/2

This was an entirely preventable tragedy. This victim of #COVID19 was as never charged with or convicted of a crime, just jailed on Rikers for violating parole rules.

Michael Tyson's life mattered. It was taken by egregious inhumanity.

But, @NYCSpeakerCoJo having the NYPD enforce social distancing & handing out tickets only increases the risk of the spread. Can we count on you to advocate for a reduction in broken windows policing at this time?

They're asking people to file based on their last names:
Mon: A-F
Tues: G-N
Weds: O-Z

Anyone who missed can file Thurs, Fri, or Sat.

NOTE: NYers will get benefits to cover from the date they became unemployed, regardless of signup delays. 2/2

The people we're losing to #COVID19 aren't just numbers.

Loved ones are grieving these losses in unprecedented ways, not being able to say goodbye or carry out the end-of-life rituals they would under normal circumstances.

We mourn every loss as a city.

#CoronavirusUpdate: The State is giving $200M towards emergency food assistance. This money is desperately needed. About one third of NYC's food pantries have closed. Last week, the Council called for $25 million in state funding for food. No one should go hungry in NYC.

NYC needs to open streets to pedestrians for public health, public safety, & our collective sanity. Cities around the country & world are showing that this is an effective tool to promote social distancing during the #coronavirus pandemic. We should be leading on this issue.

This is horrible. Council Member Koo has been working tirelessly to help his community during this pandemic. I'm grateful he was not physically hurt and that the NYPD took quick action. Now it's more important than ever to look out for each other.

> Last night, after returning from a walk, three masked men assaulted me and tried to steal my phone in the lobby of my building. I screamed at them and didn't give them anything until they ran off. The @NYPD109Pct tracked them down in short time trying to rob another person nearby

Many low-income communities of color have been the hardest hit by #COVID19 & the cost of burying or cremating a loved one can be out of reach. We must create an emergency relief fund for final resting arrangements for all NYers.

See below for my statement w/ @FranciscoMoyaNY:

Demand Emergency Fund for Final Resting Arrangements

NEW YORK New York City Council Speaker Corey Johnson and Council Member Francisco Moya released the below statements calling for the creation of an emergency fund for final resting arrangements for all New Yorkers

"Many low-income communities of color have been the hardest hit by this terrible virus, and the cost of burying or cremating a loved one can be out of reach. The IHRA program that the City currently has to help pay for death arrangements is not sufficient. To be eligible, both the deceased and the person applying must provide a social

"Nobody is immune to this disease but low-income New Yorkers, particularly undocumented immigrants, are the most vulnerable and disproportionately affected. One of the most devastating calls I'm regularly getting is from people who can't afford to bury their loved ones and aren't eligible for any assistance. That's simply not acceptable — not when our mantra from the start has been 'We're all in this together.' We must create an emergency fund to help all low-income New Yorkers, regardless of their immigration status, put their loved ones to rest," said Council Member Francisco Moya

There are a million questions about #COVID19 but how to pay for loved ones lost to the disease shouldn't be one of them.

We need an emergency fund for all low-income NYers, regardless of immigration status, to pay for final arrangements.

See my statement w/ @NYCSpeakerCoJo here

NYC Council Speaker Corey Johnson @NYCSpeakerCoJo

Many low-income communities of color have been the hardest hit by #COVID19 & the cost of burying or cremating a loved one can be out of reach. We must create an emergency relief fund for final resting arrangements for all NYers

Speaker Johnson Statement on Franklin Graham

NEW YORK – "Franklin Graham has a long history of spewing anti-LGBTQ hate speech and I find it extremely troubling that he and his organization are involved in our relief efforts in any way. New York City is known around the world for our embrace of diversity and Franklin Graham has spent his career standing against these values. I will be monitoring this situation closely and making sure that our city's values are being represented at all times."

Empty streets are not an excuse to speed and we should consider harsher penalties for drivers who do. We also need to open more streets all over the city to pedestrians so they can keep a safe distance without fear of getting hit by a car.

#CoronavirusUpdate: All city events requiring a permit in June are canceled. This includes events such as Pride and the Puerto Rican Day Parade. This is heartbreaking, but we must do everything we can to fight this virus.

Tomorrow we are introducing a #COVID19 relief package that extends time for COVID-impacted tenants to repay rent and pay back debts, and gives new protections from harassment for all renters, including small businesses. 1/

We must #cancelrent, but in the meantime, the Council is working to give tenants peace of mind so New Yorkers won't suffer irreparable harms. Our bill extends the time for NYC renters to repay rent, and blocks evictions and collection of debts 2/

Also included in this package is an #EssentialWorkers Bill of Rights, which would ensure:

premium pay and just cause rights for essential workers paid sick for gig workers

No.

I did mine online, but the national #Census2020 must be redone, as too many people will not be able to turn it in 1) due to lack of resources and 2) the stress of going through this pandemic. Vast swaths of people will be undercounted.

Waiting until NYers experiencing homelessness get sick with COVID-19 before we address how this crisis affects them is not a strategy. It's another crisis waiting to happen.

We need to be proactive and get them out of crowded shelters and into private hotel rooms.

Sheltering at home isn t possible if you don t have a home That s why on Thursday, the @NYCCouncil will hear legislation requiring NYC to provide single adult homeless people with private rooms through the end of the pandemic + implement risk reduction protocols. 1/

The crowded conditions of our shelters clearly don't allow residents to take necessary precautions or observe social distancing, so in effect, this legislation would require NYC to move residents out of shelters and into hotels or other facilities with private rooms. 2/2

Waiting until NYers experiencing homelessness get sick with COVID-19 before we address how this crisis affects them is not a strategy. It's another crisis waiting to happen.

We need to be proactive and get them out of crowded shelters and into private hotel rooms.

Waiting until NYers experiencing homelessness get sick with COVID-19 before we address how this crisis affects them is not a strategy. It's another crisis waiting to happen.

We need to be proactive and get them out of crowded shelters and into private hotel rooms.

The @NYCCouncil is deeply grateful to all the advocates, BIDs, community groups, and passionate New Yorkers who worked with us to open streets. I also want to thank @NYGovCuomo who supported this idea early on as the pandemic was taking hold of our city.

This is just awful. We owe so much to our healthcare heroes. We must be prepared to help them deal with this trauma for years to come. My heart goes out to the family, friends, & colleagues of Dr. Lorna M. Breen. NYC is eternally grateful for her service.

New York tenants are suffering and May 1st, the 2nd rent day of this pandemic, is looming. Our number one priority is keeping renters in their homes, and that's why the @NYCCouncil is moving to extend the moratorium on evictions and collections of debt in this city. #CancelRent

Legally, can a politician pass legislation that would completely waive rent when that's a private contract between a land owner and tenant? I'm not looking to pick a fight, or advocate one over the other, just genuinely curious

This is what happens when institutional racism and misogyny intersect to determine medical bias: Black women aren't listened to, the consequences are often fatal, and it isn't limited to any one hospital—it's system-wide.

We can't keep allowing this.

FBI reports that Asian Americans in US are now experiencing increased hate crimes due to #COVID19. Since Feb, the @NYCCHRR has recorded 248 reports of harassment and discrimination related to COVID-19, 105 of which identify incidents of anti-Asian harassment or discrimination.

I want to thank Manhattan resident Barbara Yau and her daughter, who decided to take action to fight against anti-Asian hate crime. They created these PSA flyers in both English and Chinese for people to share on social media and also to post in public places.

Let me be clear, fear about #COVID19 is absolutely not an excuse for any harassment or discrimination. If you are a victim of or witness a hate crime, call 911 or the @NewYorkStateAG's hotline at 1-800-771-7755.

This is pointless. There aren't any accountability mechanism. NYPD will do racist enforcement, there will be a hearing and that's it. They are exposing ppl in communities of color with high rates of comorbidities and high COVID-19 mortality rates to the virus. Cut their budget!

No community should be singled out for rebuke and public shaming during this crisis. Especially not one that has recently faced rising discrimination and attacks like NYC's Jewish community, which is itself of course too vibrant, complex, and diverse to be generalized about. 1/5

How do we safely reopen NYC? We need to:
1. keep increasing our testing capacity
2. implement contact tracing
3. continue social distancing
4. fully enforce isolation/quarantine for those infected

Undocumented people are people, the vast majority of whom pay federal, state, and local taxes. They deserve assistance just like everyone else. Keeping them from that help is nothing short of blatant inhumanity.

Why didn't the City Council hold any hearings during the run up of the imminent pandemic? What was the plan to deal with communicating with 9 million NYers plus the 500k undocumented, many of whom the city does not track? Our city admin failed us all @CMKosowitz

For too long, placards have dictated how New Yorkers use what limited street space they have. Today, the @NYCCouncil has the opportunity to change that by passing a package of bills to end the corruptive practice of placard abuse.

Building service workers are essential, especially here in New York City. The least we can do is provide them with benefits that reflect that.

This is such devastating news, but I know we will continue to organize and fight on her behalf. As we await the SCOTUS decision on her case, we hold her strength in our hearts.

My deepest condolences to Aimee's loved ones.

Systemic racism is a massive problem across all our institutions. This has always been the case, but now that it's completely laid bare for all to see, we need to take this opportunity and begin righting those wrongs.

For many New Yorkers, the cost of burying or cremating a loved one can be out of reach, so Council Member @FranciscoMoyaNY and I called for emergency funds to help them pay for final resting arrangements, regardless of immigration status.

Everyone deserves this dignity.

This failure to deescalate is unacceptable. The NYPD should not be enforcing social distancing. We need to move to a CURE violence model with respected community leaders showing the way as @NYSenBenjamin has suggested.

This is welcome news, but it's sad that it took a pandemic to set this record.

We need to crack down on unsafe drivers, redesign our streets to put pedestrians first, and bolster our public transit networks to reduce the need for car trips.

These reopening criteria may seem strict — and that's because they have to be. In order to reopen any part of the state, especially New York City, we need to minimize the chance for a second wave while simultaneously preparing for it.

Our delivery workers are heroes, but all too often they don't have a choice when it comes to doing their work. They deserve better salaries and paid leave at a bare minimum. I just wish it didn't take a pandemic to clear that up.

This is the impact of racial disparities in wealth and health care. This is the impact of generations upon generations of systemic failures.

This isn't new. We needed to fix it long ago. Our recovery efforts must address these disparities at the outset.

These challenging circumstances surely impact everyone's mental health—but for those already coping with mental illness, that's only exacerbated.

Remember, you're not alone. New Yorkers can call 1-844-863-9314 to speak with a mental health professional.

When NYC reopens, a lot will have to look different for a while—including our restaurants. That's why we have to start creatively planning now.

Our restaurants need this. Our city needs this. I'm committed to finding the best way to make it happen.

This public health crisis didn't begin with COVID-19.

This public health crisis merely exacerbates the results of decades of failing to address systemic racial disparities.

I'm with Council Member @HelenRosenthal. We need

1. more outreach to domestic violence survivors (that is culturally sensitive, + for those without phones/internet)

2. a plan to handle the surge of DV reports + demand for services once PAUSE is lifted

I want to thank Chinese American business owners, organized by FCBA's @tu_petertu1117, for donating 200K face masks and 2k thermometers to the City. I know many of them have been suffering from the economic hardship caused by COVID-19, and have been hurting since February. 1/2

The derogatory, blatantly misogynist remarks Sergeants Benevolent Association President Ed Mullins made about Dr. Barbot are downright repugnant. That he even thought to send that tweet really says it all.
